As a mother of a United States Marine I have witnessed what a combat veteran goes through. My son has been diagnosed with PTSD, TBI, Anxiety, Depression and Alcoholism. Through many short term rehabs, detoxing I searched and searched for a place to bring him back home for rehab. I found California Palms and we were welcomed with open arms, respect and understanding. Bless Sebastian and Elizabeth for all their help and support to get him admitted. California Palms had veterans there who my son could relate to as well as counseling, AA, groups, acupuncture, yoga, water aerobics, gym class, one on one counselling, meditation, service work, extracurricular activities and much much more. My son didn't feel institutionalized like previous rehabs and could focus on sobriety. He learned alot of coping skills and was able to be honest with himself that he had a problem. I was impressed with the outcome. I would recommend California Palms to anyone suffering with addiction.
