My life before California Palms was in shambles. I arrived at California Palms four days after I began detox. When I got there I was welcomed with open arms and a bunch of brand new guys that I consider brothers. It was like staying in a vacation hotel. The food was phenomenal and classes were great. I received very good counseling while I was there from my counselor and the staff. Since leaving California Palms I have continue to stay sober and keep in touch with my friends from California Palms. California palms impacted my life in such a great way. It showed me that I can have fun while being sober. I received so many tools from the staff on how to stay sober through the tough times. I've never been to a place that has so much love for people they didn't know. Even though my insurance did not cover my stay I was still allowed to stay there on scholarship even though California palms is struggling with the financial situation. I wish there were more places like California Palms because it would save so many lives. Like I said I've been to many treatments and this one was amazing not just because of how nice it was but because of the amazing staff and how much they truly care for addicts. I would recommend anybody to start treatment at California palms. I give this place a 10 out of 10. I hope this helps Zach you're an awesome dude and you're one of the guys that made me feel comfortable there. You're gonna be one hell of a counselor one day because you could help veterans and other Addicts at the same time cause U been thru it all. Love ya brother. Gotta get together soon
